

UNITED NATIONS POSITIONS IN N. KOREA'S CENTRAL SECTOR ARE SUBJECTED TO HEAVY BARRAGES; POSSIBLY PORTENDS NEW OFFENSIVE BY REINFORCED RED TROOPS

Artillery Fire Strikes 1st Cavalry Division Lines Near Kunuri

ROKS TAKE TOKCHON

8th Division Troops Push North in The Face of Intensive Fire

By Irving R. Levine
(U. N. S. War Correspondent)

SEOUL, Nov. 10.—(INS)—United Nations positions in North Korea's central sector were subjected today to heavy barrages, possibly portending a new offensive by reinforced Chinese and Korean Red troops.

Artillery fire struck U. S. First Cavalry Division lines northwest of Kunuri while the enemy's big mortars opened up against a bridge spanning the Taedong river just south of Tokchon.

Kunuri is the eastern inland anchor of the key allied Chongchon river bridgehead in northwest Korea.

Tokchon, a midland rail-highway hub, lies 26 miles east of Kunuri on the north side of the Taedong which flows southwest past the unoccupied Red capital of Pyongyang to the Yellow Sea.

Strategic Tokchon was captured Thursday by ROK (Republic of Korea) Eighth Division troops which pushed north another 2,000 yards in the face of intensive Communist fire.

An enemy force launched a flanking counter-attack from the west of Tokchon that precipitated sharp fighting through Thursday night and early Friday. Outcome of this battle was not yet known up to Friday noon.

U. S. First Corps field headquarters estimated that more than 30,000 Chinese Communist troops were deployed along the Chongchon front curving for 20 miles eastward from Pakchon to Womni.

This represented about half of the estimated 60,000 Chinese already in North Korea.

Activities of Interest To All In The Various Communities

GLEANED BY SCRIBES

Giving an interesting historical background of furniture and the origin of the names of various pieces, Miss Ann Jeffries, of Bristol, presented a classification talk on refinishing and repairing furniture, Monday evening at the meeting of the Soroptimist Club of Bucks County. Approximately 26 members were in attendance at Doylestown.

In olden days, she said, single pieces of furniture were used for many purposes, such as settle-chair-tables. She also demonstrated the processes in refinishing furniture, showing several pieces of wood, treated to show the various methods in finish.

One new member, Mrs. E. Helen Martin, executive secretary of the Upper Bucks Branch of the American Red Cross, Doylestown, was accepted.

Two appointments to fill vacancies caused by resignations were made by Sellersville borough council, Monday evening. Robert Brown, who has been serving as building inspector, was named as health officer to succeed Frank Hallman, who was forced to retire because of ill health. WORLD NEWS IN BRIEF

The United States, Britain and France, in an effort to forestall Peiping in picking the time and manner for its representatives to reach Lake Success, asked the Security Council to take up today Chinese Communist intervention in Korea. Washington authorized transit visas for nine persons to represent Peiping at the Council's debate on Formosa. With only the Soviet bloc opposing and India and South Africa abstaining, the Assembly's Political Committee adopted a revised Yugoslav motion to check aggression.

Deputy Prime Minister Patel of India said the Communist invasion of Tibet might start a new world war, and he urged his people to meet any challenge along India's frontiers.

Efforts were being made in London, Paris and Washington to resolve French-United States differences over German rearming before the North Atlantic deputies would meet on Monday. Western Germany, in view of defense costs, may have to reimpose some controls.

Belgrade heard that Washington was planning to send 100,000 tons of Marshall Plan wheat from Italy and Germany to Yugoslavia.

Mrs. Anna M. Rosenberg will be named Assistant Secretary of Defense at Secretary Marshall's request to handle manpower and personnel matters.

This nation, General Eisenhower said, will not be really safe and peaceful until "every young American" accepts military service as a "personal obligation." He warned against surrender to pressure groups and the decay of our freedoms through neglect.

A strike of 33,000 telephone workers in all but five states cut long-distance service but did not interfere with local calls in most cities.

The R. F. C., seeking to live within its income, will raise interest rates, charge new fees and cut expenses.

Democratic leaders, puzzled over their wrong guesses on Tuesday's elections, found solace in the fact that losses this year had not been as great as in other off-years. Re-counts seemed probable in Connecticut, where Senator Benton was re-elected by 925 votes, and in Michigan, where errors in Detroit's tally cut former Governor Kelly's lead over Democratic Governor Williams to 2,431.

Devotionals were in charge of Mrs. Andrew Dillman, entitled "The Holy Spirit, the Power of God," and "Religion in the News" was presented by Mrs. W. Arthur Roberts. Tea was served by circle 2 with Mrs. Jesse Osmond, leader, in charge.

CROYDON MAN UNHURT WHEN CAR HITS DEER

Animal Lives Long Enough To Cause Another Car To Overtake

MAN'S ARM IS BROKEN

Although he has made trips to distant points in search of deer, season after season, Edward Ebert, of 721 Bristol Pike, Croydon, got his deer "the hard way," last evening.

Ebert's car struck an eight-point buck, head-on, when the animal is said to have dashed out of Pennypack Woods, at Holme avenue, near Ashton road, Philadelphia. The weight of the buck is estimated at 190 pounds. Ebert was en route to Philadelphia where he teaches evening classes. He was unhurt, and the car was but slightly damaged.

The deer lived long enough, however, to cause another machine to overturn a few minutes later, the driver suffering a fracture of the arm.

After the accident involving Ebert's car, Ebert drove to Pennypack Circle to notify Fairmount Park guards, returning to the scene with Acting Sgt. Paul Dole and Guard Theodore Klatt. The three found a sedan on its roof, with three persons trapped inside. Nearly lay the deer's body.

William D. Waggoner, 49, of Wesleyan road, Academy Gardens, driver of the sedan, suffered a fractured left arm. His wife, Mae, 36, and daughter, Joyce, seven, were not hurt.

At Nazareth Hospital, Philadelphia, Waggoner said he had swerved his car when the deer, apparently regaining consciousness, again darted across the highway. The automobile skidded and overturned. The deer fell dead.

Ebert had made trips to New Buffalo for a few years in search of deer. He says he only saw one while hunting, and never bagged any.

Morrisville Brothers Told By Court to Arrange For Support of Mother

King Farms Worker is Ordered To Move Out of State and To Keep Out

DOYLESTOWN, Nov. 10.—To avoid causing a family bitterness for life between two brothers, President Judge Hiram H. Keller, following a hearing in Quarter Sessions Court, refused to make an order on one of the brothers in connection with the financial support of their indigent Morrisville mother who is bedfast.

Ernest F. Hibbs, who lives at the Stacy-Trent Hotel, Trenton, N. J., testified he sent more than $1,000 in allotments to his mother while he served in the Army. The mother was known as "quite a bingo player."

Joseph Hibbs, Robertson and Harrison avenues, Morrisville, testified his mother deeded the home to him in 1942 for $1 with the promise that he would keep her. The property is worth about $3,000, Joseph told the Court. Because his mother is now destitute and needs medical care, Joseph is asking Ernest to help him support her.

It was brought out that the mother allegedly had quite a reputation as a bingo player and that most of the money she received from Ernest, who served overseas in the African-Italian campaign, went for bingo games, it was said. Joseph said $90 of the $1,000 allotments were used towards paying

SPEAKER SAYS IT IS COSTLY TO LOSE A WAR

Major General L. Waller Tells Rotarians We Must Be Realistic

SPEAKER AT MEETING

Urging the adoption of a universal military training program for the United States as the only real solution to possible aggression from outside forces, Major General L. Waller, U. S. M. C. (Retired), declared when he spoke to Rotarians at the Elks' Home yesterday afternoon that, "we must be realistic about this situation. It is either that or the eventual loss of our liberties. It is costly to win a war but far more costly to lose one."

Reviewing our hurried demobilization after World War I, General Waller said, "We developed a false security at that time."

"And shortly after World War II, we scrapped the machine of that war. We had not yet learned our lesson. Our divisions were reduced to brigade strength and there were no appropriations to make them any larger. Even today all available Marine personnel is in the Korean theater. If some untoward incident should demand Marines in the Atlantic theater there would be no Marines to send."

"We need more power. We need

FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 10, 1950

THIRTY-TWO YEARS AGO

Thirty-two years ago the great conflict now referred to as World War I came to an end. When the false report of an armistice came and the people hailed it with delirious joy only to learn later that it was untrue, they were disappointed but not disillusioned. The second and authentic announcement found them eager to celebrate the good news all over again.

Perhaps those who are old enough to remember those automobile days of 1918 do not agree on which of them produced the greater outpouring of jubilation.
But they will agree that there was not much to choose between them.
Both brought forth expressions of relief and happiness that bordered on hysteria. It was as if Americans could not free the pent-up feelings in their hearts. They did their best, for hours on end, in city and town and village across the continent.

They thought of it as the return of peace. That is why it was in the sense that Armistice Day marked the end of fighting between Germany and the Allies. It was a day of truce, and it kept its half-promising, half-threatening name—Armistice Day.

Now it is clear that the period between World War I and World War II was nothing other than a prolonged armistice. Fighting was resumed two decades later, to continue for more than five years and to involve most of the world.
Now, after a few uneasy years, the outlook for peace could not be darker.

SERMON ON OLD AGE

Medical science has made great progress in increasing the span of human life. Society through its various governments has set up provisions to care for those who reach the evening of life financially insecure. At the same time thousands of men and women who have passed the allotted three-score-and-ten are still holding important places in business and the professions, willing and capable of meeting the competition of younger persons, without asking odds.

But the fact remains that life is designed for youth, and with its greatest rewards to be obtained during the years of mental and physical vigor. Those who look forward to retirement often find only disappointment and boredom in the long-awaited rock-ing chair. Let them be a bit cratchety at times. Old age is entitled to many concessions.

It is claimed football is being overemphasized in colleges. The charge may have been inspired by some school whose team was defeated 60 to 0.

Political sages, who before the election were voluble in their predictions of how this would happen unless that happened, now are just as voluble in pointing out how right they were.

"WASHINGTON REPORT"By FULTON LEWIS, JR.
(Copyright, 1950
King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 10—A spinning wheel is sending the television industry into a tailspin.

Complaints from all sides have been piling up over a Federal Communications Commission decision to promote the Columbia Broadcasting type of color television. A congressional investigation of the TV mess can be forecast with certainty. It will be a lulu.

What the FCC ruling amounts to is that the approximately 9,000,000 TV black and white set owners, if they want color TV, can buy a new set or hang a mechanical contrivance, consisting of a series of spinning discs, in front of the screen. The spinning wheels will produce, on existing sets, a picture 12 and one-half inches in diameter and no larger. To get it, you will pay from $100 to $250 for a converter and an adapter. This is for color, for present set owners.

If the FCC forces the CBS system down the throats of the TV broadcasters, a big majority of the experts claim, present set owners will have to shell out from $30 to $130 just to get a black and white picture on their present sets. This is for the adapter, alone.

Trimming down the TV picture to twelve and one-half inches is bucking a big trend. Over half of the sets in existence now are the 16 to 19 inch size. Eighty-seven percent of the TV picture tubes manufactured in October are 16 inches or larger, and producers are preparing for 21 to 24 inch tubes for moderate priced sets.

There are four radio networks, competing for your listening ear constantly with new and better programs. There are thousands of newspapers in the nation, all scrambling for your reading nickel.

But there will be one kind of color television, producing what the network wants you to see, and when; and unless you convert or adapt, or both, you might as well put your set in the attic.

The FCC decision, ordering CBS-TV to the forefront with its system, created almost total frustration in the Radio Corporation of America, and Color Television Incorporated. Both of these organizations have color systems of their own, and in normal competitive procedures have the right to sell their viewers on the idea that their systems are best.

RCA has a system which has been tested. It is a tri-color tube that can be made in any size. In addition, the RCA television broadcasts can be received on present black and white sets. In other words, it is compatible.

The CTI system is comparable to the RCA method, but the FCC rejected both in favor of CBS. This was bad enough, but FCC wasn't through. It recently ordered RCA to turn over its blueprints, technical data and test models to CBS. When you build a better mouse trap now, it would seem, it isn't the world but the FCC that beats a path to your door.

Business has operated on the theory that a better product will attract the most buyers. In making color TV an exception, the FCC has laid itself open to a lengthy court fight besides a congressional investigation.

Many influential figures are up to their ears in the color TV fight. Sam Rosenman, White House intimate and former speech writer for the late Franklin D. Roosevelt, is working for CBS. RCA countered with the president's ex-ghost writer, Clark Clifford, now a Washington lawyer. Wayne Coy, FCC administrator, is a former assistant to the publisher of the Washington Post, which owns a CBS station in Washington.

All of this and a lot more will make interesting reading in the next few weeks, after the new congress struggles through its bi-annual shakedown and gets set for some new business.

Senator Ed Johnson, Democrat, of Colorado, is chairman of the Senate Interstate and Foreign Commerce Committee. He put the burr in the FCC saddle back in April of 1949, with demands for an immediate decision on color TV. One of his staunchest FCC advocates is former Congressman Robert Franklin Jones, a member of the commission. Jones has long promoted CBS color TV against the advice of the rest of the television industry. There are now 107 television stations making daily broadcasts. Most of them are in the black, for the first time. Manufacturers have huge investments in production plant and research operations.

Now they can't decide whether to quit, or convert to producing electronic devices for the defense department.

The FCC is urging manufacturers to change their assembly lines to include automatic or manual switches so set owners will be ready when CBS starts its color telecasting. This costs money and clutters up television receivers. And it could turn out to be a waste of both time and money.

If the FCC ruling on CBS color is upset in the court, a set owner with a series of conversion knobs, will have a lot of useless gadgets on his hands. Tube producers, already fighting to keep their heads above the avalanche of defense department orders, haven't the slightest idea which way to turn.

This much is known. The overwhelming majority of the television industry, including the television and TV dealers, are ranged on one side. On the other is the FCC. There is one other certainty. Color television broadcasts, on an adequate scale, are months away. And if FCC wins you will get what it orders, which is one way of doing business. The other way is to let the industry fight it out as it grows, just as other great industries in the nation battled to bring us what we wanted. If they failed they didn't survive.

schmidt turned over to council $206 collected in fines during the month, and reported having investigated six accidents.

Report was made by William Walter, the water superintendent, that the water in the catch basin is 70 inches above the overflow, and that the auxiliary well on West Park avenue is now in operation.

While on their way to hear their college daughter sing in a Wilkes-Barre church, Mr. and Mrs. William F. Caul and son, Charles, of Churchville, figured in a deer-car collision, Sunday evening.

The family was going to hear Janet, who is a member of Bucknell University College chapel choir in the First Baptist Church, Wilkes-Barre.

The deer ran into their car, north of Blakeslee, off Route 115, and was instantly killed. The new sedan was owned by their son Charles, who left for the army yesterday morning.

Charles was driving to Wilkes-Barre to say farewell to his sister before departing for the armed forces. The doe did $150 damages to the car.

How Fire Insurance Helps You
Buy a New Home

Bill and Lillian Smith had wanted their own home for years. Then Lillian found it.

But how did fire insurance help them buy it? Without fire insurance on the house Bill couldn't have borrowed the money to buy it.

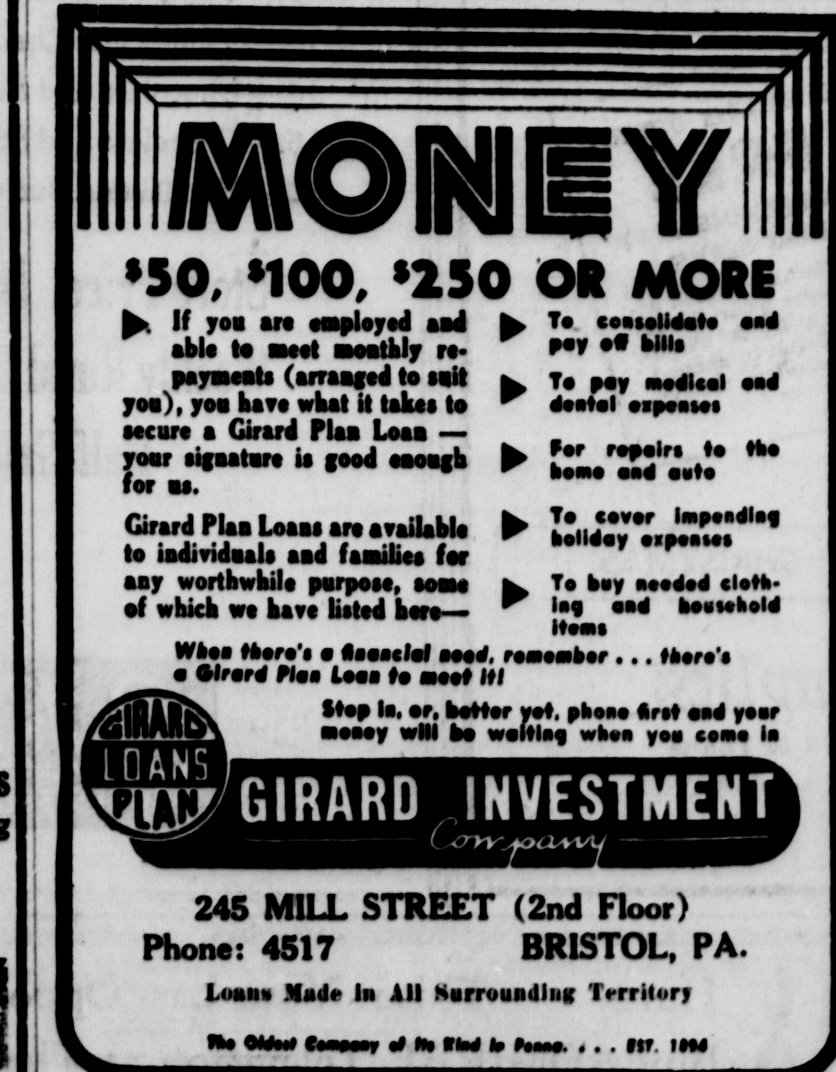

But even before the house was a blueprint, fire insurance helped make possible the entire development. Without its protection the builder could not have financed his own operations.

That's how fire insurance helps you acquire a home with conveniences that are possible today only in a country where business freedom is constantly making America a better place to live in.

Your fire insurance rate per $100 protection is as much as 30% lower today than it was 30 years ago. Write for booklet giving the facts and telling other advantages of stock company fire insurance.

BENSALEM FACES A CRUCIAL TEST HERE TOMORROW

Bensalem Township faces its "crucial" tilt of the season tomorrow afternoon as it plays Bristol High in a Lower Bucks County League game on the Bristol gridiron. Opening kickoff is scheduled for two o'clock.

Members of the safety patrols of the Bristol schools will be the guests of the high school athletic association at the game and will be seated in a section reserved for them.

Bensalem has won four straight league contests and should it beat the Warriors will be assured of at least a tie in the 1950 Lower Bucks loop. However, should the Warriors triumph, the Owls will be in a spot in its bid to retain full possession of the crown it won in 1949 after deadlocking with Bristol in 1948.

Bristol still has a mathematical chance of tying for the championship. In order for this to happen, the Warriors must beat both Bensalem and Morrisville, Morrisville must beat Neshaun, and Neshaun must also topple Bensalem in its Thanksgiving Day classic. Should these things happen, then Bristol, Bensalem, and Neshaun will finish in a triple deadlock for first place with a 4 and 2 mark. However, Morrisville cannot be overlooked in the league standing as it has only played three games and can change the entire situation by winning its remaining games. The Neshaun-Morrisville game of next Saturday will have a large bearing on the final standing of the circuit.

Both teams will be handicapped by absence of players because of injuries. For the past few weeks, Bensalem has been playing without the services of its star quarterback and passer, Bob Whitfield. "Johnny" Bowman has been calling the plays but this takes him away from running the ball and Johnny is a fine ball carrier. Bensalem lost Myron Matlocks in the Pennsylvania game and it is doubtful whether he will see action against the Warriors.

Coach Marion VanHorn has been using Bowman, Al Bader, Bernie Hrusza, and Bob Ballisty as his starting backfield with Al Parker, a freshman, doing substitute work. At wing position, Bensalem has four outstanding ends in Dick Gloyd, Alex Martin, Bill Dwyer, and John Mellor. At times, Mellor goes into the backfield.

Bob Scott, Walt Smith, Smith, Dick Scott, Carrington, Gene Connolly, Bob Bristol, and Ustin are the Bensalem linemen.

Coach Harry McClister will probably lose Andy Accardi, who has been doing the passing for the tilt. Accardi injured his ankle against Burlington last week. The chief ground-gainer, Jack Quinn, received a cut on his jaw against the Blue Devils but is prepared for the Owls. McClister will most likely start Halston Hedrick and Charlie Rauch at ends; Charlie Foltz and Bill Gratz at the tackle positions; Tex Giagnacova and Jack Meehan as guards; Ned Albright, center, and the backs, "Lou" Loeffler, Quinn, Alan Holston and Ercole Petrizza.

A Lower Bucks County League tilt will be played under the lights tomorrow night on the Robert Morris field, Morrisville, with the Bulldogs playing Council Rock. Game will start at eight o'clock.

Council Rock is out of the league race while Morrisville has won a game, lost one, and tied one. Council Rock broke into the league's win column last Saturday, trouncing Pennsbury, 32-0.

Morrisville's circuit triumph was at the expense of Pennsbury, 14-7. The Bulldogs have been beaten by Bensalem and tied by Southampton.

SPORTSMEN'S BRIEFS

By JOE ELBERSON

No doe season... game officials have announced that as the result of legal petitions filed with the Pennsylvania Game Commission in compliance with law the following 14 counties will be closed to antlerless deer hunting this year: Bedford, Cameron, Center, Clearfield, Clinton, Elk, Franklin, Fulton, Juniata, Mifflin, Perry, Pike, Snyder and Sullivan.

Last meeting... the last big meeting for this year of the Bristol Fish & Game Protective Association is scheduled for next Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock. It will be held in the YMCA Building, Mansion Street. According to president Jack Lynn a fine program is being arranged, with refreshments, prizes and movies listed on the program. All members should be on hand, and all interested sportsmen have a cordial invitation to attend.

It's your investment... the pheasant hen is the factory that produces the ringneck hunter's sport. Roughly, half of the birds are males, therefore a scarcity of females is far more serious than a scarcity of cocks. And a ringneck rooster can manage a harem of twelve or more hens.

Many clutches of pheasant eggs never hatch, loss of young birds is extremely high, and many mature birds die each year due to various causes. The survival rate being no higher than that of cottontail rabbits, which is about 1 to 4, it becomes apparent that every hen pheasant that dies represents a serious loss to future hunting.

If for no other reason than the selfish one of continuing and improving his sport, every ringneck hunter should be careful to shoot only cock birds.

Meeting and shoot... members of the Newportville Rod & Gun Club will conduct their November meeting this Sunday at noon, at the clubhouse on Hanged Lane, Eddington.

Following the meeting the club will hold a public turkey shoot and a 50-bird, 16 yard bluecock Lewis Class match. All shooters are invited to participate.

Protect your privilege... since negligence never takes a holiday, and familiarity (with firearms, too) breeds contempt, hunters might well set a watch on themselves in game seasons to avoid the careless or complacent attitude that too often spells disaster in the hunting field.

It might be well, too, to consider now the causes behind the NO TRESPASS notices. Farmers, who are the owners of most of the small game land in Pennsylvania today, are for the most part friendly and sociable but they resent thoughtless destructive acts committed on their land as much as any town or city dweller would on his property. Dangerous shooting near farm buildings or livestock, vandalism and boorishness on the part of hunters have been the principal reasons why NO TRESPASS signs have become so prevalent.

If the privilege of hunting on private land is to continue as we have known it, sportsmen will have to respect the rights of the farmer, courteously request permission to roam his fields, avoid shooting near buildings, and generally apply the Golden Rule while pursuing wild game.

1. A second look, a second's pause on the part of the shooter would prevent the shooting of hunters in mistake for game.
2. Bright clothing dissimilar in coloration from surrounding vegetation distinguishes hunters from game.

ACES TO GET FINAL CHANCE FOR PLAYOFFS

PENNDLE, Nov. 10 — The Langhorne-Middletown Aces will have its final opportunity of entering the playoffs of the Northeast Football Conference, Sunday, as it plays the Olney Vets on the Pennel Memorial field, starting at two o'clock.

The Aces played Tacony to a scoreless deadlock last week and should it beat the Olney team will finish with 9 points which will most likely give them a playoff spot, depending on the outcome of the other games.

UN Positions in N. Korea's Central Sector Subjected To Heavy Barrages

Chinese Red soldiers were moving toward the Korean border along which American planes continued pummeling all Yalu river bridges, roads and staging bases.

First Corps officers estimated that three Chinese regiments were deployed around Pakchon while another Chinese regiment was in position north of Wonn which is four miles northeast of Kunuri.

They said the U. S. First Cavalry's casualties under the enemy's violent shelling of the Kunuri area were light.

Along the west wing of the Choncheon bulge, patrols of the British Commonwealth's 27th Brigade knifed nearly six miles northward above Anju without encountering Red resistance.

Near their left flank however the British Commonwealth troops collided with an enemy force one mile southeast of Pakchon in a severe fire-fight.

To the east of the British positions, U. S. 24th Infantry Division patrols probed nearly five miles north of their perimeter positions without meeting enemy troops.

A group of 200 to 300 Reds that suffered heavy casualties under the tank fire of a 24th Division armored patrol two miles northeast of Pakchon Thursday was ripped again by American planes as it retreated north.

Several Cases Are Heard At Session of Court

for an operation their mother underwent.

Ernest, who admitted he pays $20 a week for a room at the Stacey-Trent, has a lumber yard and employs three men.

President Judge Keller, who deplored the feeling which has grown between the two sons of the aged, now invaded mother, asked that they reach an agreement outside of court and asked District Attorney Willard S. Curtin to aid them in a solution.

"If I place an order on you men you will never forget it or forgive one another," said President Judge

Keller. The case was ordered continued.

Robert Lee Wall, 31, of Rockingham, N. C., King Farms Company, Morrisville, R. D., farm worker, who shot at a Trenton, N. J., taxi driver when he threw the spotlight at him, was given ten days by President Judge Hiram H. Keller to get his family and his belongings together and leave and stay out of both Pennsylvania and New Jersey.

Pleading guilty to attempt with intent to kill, wantonly pointing and discharging a firearm and carrying a firearm without a license, the defendant, who has been in previous trouble, was severely upbraided by the Court.

"I could send you to the Eastern Penitentiary for a seven-year stretch but I am going to suspend sentence on condition that you get out of and stay out of Bucks County."

"We don't want you here. You had a chance to come up here to earn your living but you didn't want to be a good, useful citizen," said President Judge Keller.

John McNamara, 29-year-old Trenton taxi driver, testified he picked the defendant up in Trenton as a cab-fare Oct. 16. He shot his pistol off several times out the window while riding along and bragged about "killing a man."

"When the cab stopped, he took off and when I turned the spotlight on him he fired toward the spot-light," said the cabbie.

"Go back to Rockingham, N. C., and don't come back to New Jersey or Pennsylvania," warned Judge Keller who placed the defendant on three years probation.

Constable Isaac Watson, Falls township, was authorized by the Court to check on the defendant's leaving and obeying the order.

A merchant deck - sea seaman, Malcolm H. Whitehead, of Philadelphia, who pleaded guilty to drunken driving October 7th, near Langhorne, will be released by Judge Keller on condition that he pays the costs of prosecution. He has been in prison a month and was arrested by Trooper John C. Friedrich, of the Langhorne sub-station of the P. S. P. He, too, was driving a pick-up truck and was involved in an accident.

Warren Stackhouse, 28, formerly of Palmyra, N. J., who pleaded guilty to stealing from cars at Washington Crossing April 13-14, 1949, was sentenced to serve not less than six months nor more than 23. Former Washington Crossing Chief of Police James Marion made the arrest. Stackhouse was in Bordentown Prison Farm before coming here.

President Judge Keller granted two paroles. One to Elmer Alfred Miller, 21, Second and Leedom avenues, West Bristol. The defendant was sentenced to serve not less than three nor more than 23 months on an assault and battery charge. The other was granted to Roy Houser, 52, 344 McKinley street, Bristol, who was sentenced Sept. 11 on a drunken driving charge.

ST. ANN'S TO SEEK A PLAYOFF BERTH IN SUNDAY'S GAME

St. Ann's A. A. will be seeking a playoff berth in the Northeast Football Conference, Sunday, as it meets the Willow Grove Vets on the Upper Moreland High School field, Willow Grove. The game was originally scheduled to be played here but transferred to the Willow Grove field by the St. Ann's team officials.

The "Saints" are tied for second place in the loop with the Olney Vets, each having won four games and lost two. Olney plays the Langhorne Aces, Sunday, on the Pennel Memorial field. Ditman will automatically clinch the season's championship Sunday as it receives a forfeit from the Rockne team which has withdrawn from the loop.

Coach "Pete" Bornice and his proteges drilled every evening this week. The local team's followers will see several new plays which are expected to bolster the offensive power of the club. In the past two weeks, the Purple and Gold's offense has been weak, the team barely beating Cheltenham and losing to Ditman. Defensively, the eleven has shown up well in all its tilts.

Coach Bornice intends to start Clarence Anderson and Jim Bolland at the wing positions; Luke Wade and Al Sozio at the tackle positions; Joe Liberatore and Bud Calone at guard; Nick Lomma at center. The backfield will be made up of Tom Dentino, Nick Spadacini, John Fiorelli, and Joe Andriotti.

Langhorne and Tacony Boys Club are deadlocked for fourth place with three wins, two losses, and a tie. Willow Grove has won three and lost the same number.
